Now that you live in Redmond...

Go for a hike or bike ride: One of Redmond's attractions is Smith Rock State Park

Eat an ice cream cone: Need a quick sugar boost on a hot day? Stop by the historic very old west Juniper Junction building outside of Smith Rock State Park

Go shopping: In Redmond you will find unique shops that will make your shopping more than just retail therapy

Get a massage: Visit one of several spas to unwind the tensions of your everyday life – or recover from that hike or bike ride

Take a Spa Day: From Eagle Crest to Redmond you'll find so many options for relaxation and recovery that will enhance your living in Redmond – and send you home feeling truly recharged and ready to get back in the race

Enjoy a coffee drink: Redmond may be a small town, but it's big time when it comes to coffee. You'll have no problem finding your favorite drink – and a beautiful spot to sit down and enjoy it while playing family games, surfing the Web or getting a little work done

Catch some live music: Whether it's Music in the Canyon or Music on the Green during the Summer or at a local venue during the Winter, you'll find great tunes year round

Dine out: Redmond has so many great choices for breakfast, lunch and dinner - and to suit all tastes and budgets

Take a class or participate in a camp: Redmond Park & Recreation District has a wide range of offerings for organized fun

Watch a movie: You can catch first-run movies at the Redmond Cinema or rent a DVD for family night in your home

Catch a fish: Whether you're a seasoned fisherman or just getting your feet wet, you can find some great fishing around the Redmond area – and plenty of professional guidance to help you land that big one

Visit one of the local lakes and rent a ski boat, house boat or party barge: There's nothing more relaxing than being on the water

In the Summer months: Don't miss the Redmond Farmers Market every Tuesday starting in June

In the Winter months: You will want to make sure and take the family to Redmond's Ice Skating Rink

Did you know? Redmond

The town of Redmond was named after Frank T. Redmond, who settled in the area in 1905. It was platted in 1906 by a company which would become part of Central Oregon Irrigation District building a canal.

There is no sales tax in Oregon.

Oregon is only one of only two States where you are not allowed to pump your own gas (New Jersey being the other)

Climate: Redmond's climate is typical of the high desert with cool nights and sunny days. Annual precipitation averages between 8 and 10 inches (200 and 250 mm), with an average annual snowfall of 24 inches (61 cm). The winter season in Redmond provides typical daytime temperatures between 10 °F (-12 °C) and 40 °F (4 °C). Average nighttime temperatures range anywhere from 0 °F (-18 °C) to 40 °F (4 °C). According to the USDA Plant Hardiness Zone Map, [10] the average annual extreme minimum temperature in Redmond is -5 °F (-21 °C) to -10 °F (-23 °C).[11]

Redmond's growing season is short. According to the U.S. Department of Agriculture's National Resources Conservation Service, in half of the years between 1971 and 2000, the USDA weather station in Redmond recorded the last below-freezing temperatures after July 3 and the first below-freezing temperatures

Roberts Field (Redmond Municipal Airport) is in Deschutes County, Oregon a mile southeast of Redmond. It is the main commercial airport in Central Oregon, with nonstop regional airline flights to several hubs in the western U.S. The airfield serves Redmond as well as nearby Bend, Oregon.

Redmond is known for their many Antique Stores

Don't miss out on Redmond's Ice Skating Rink. Whether you're a timid beginner or a pirouetting pro, the Redmond Ice Skating Rink will offer you and your family winter memories that will last a lifetime. Nestled next to the Redmond Chamber of Commerce in the Redmond Downtown Plaza, just across the street from beautiful Centennial Park, the Ice Skating Rink welcomes people of all ages and from all corners of Central Oregon (and beyond) to enjoy the thrill of gliding coolly across the winter ice

For the Summer months don't miss the Redmond Farmers Market every Tuesday starting in June from 3:00 – 6:00pm on the corner of 7th & Evergreen.

Redmond Timeline & History

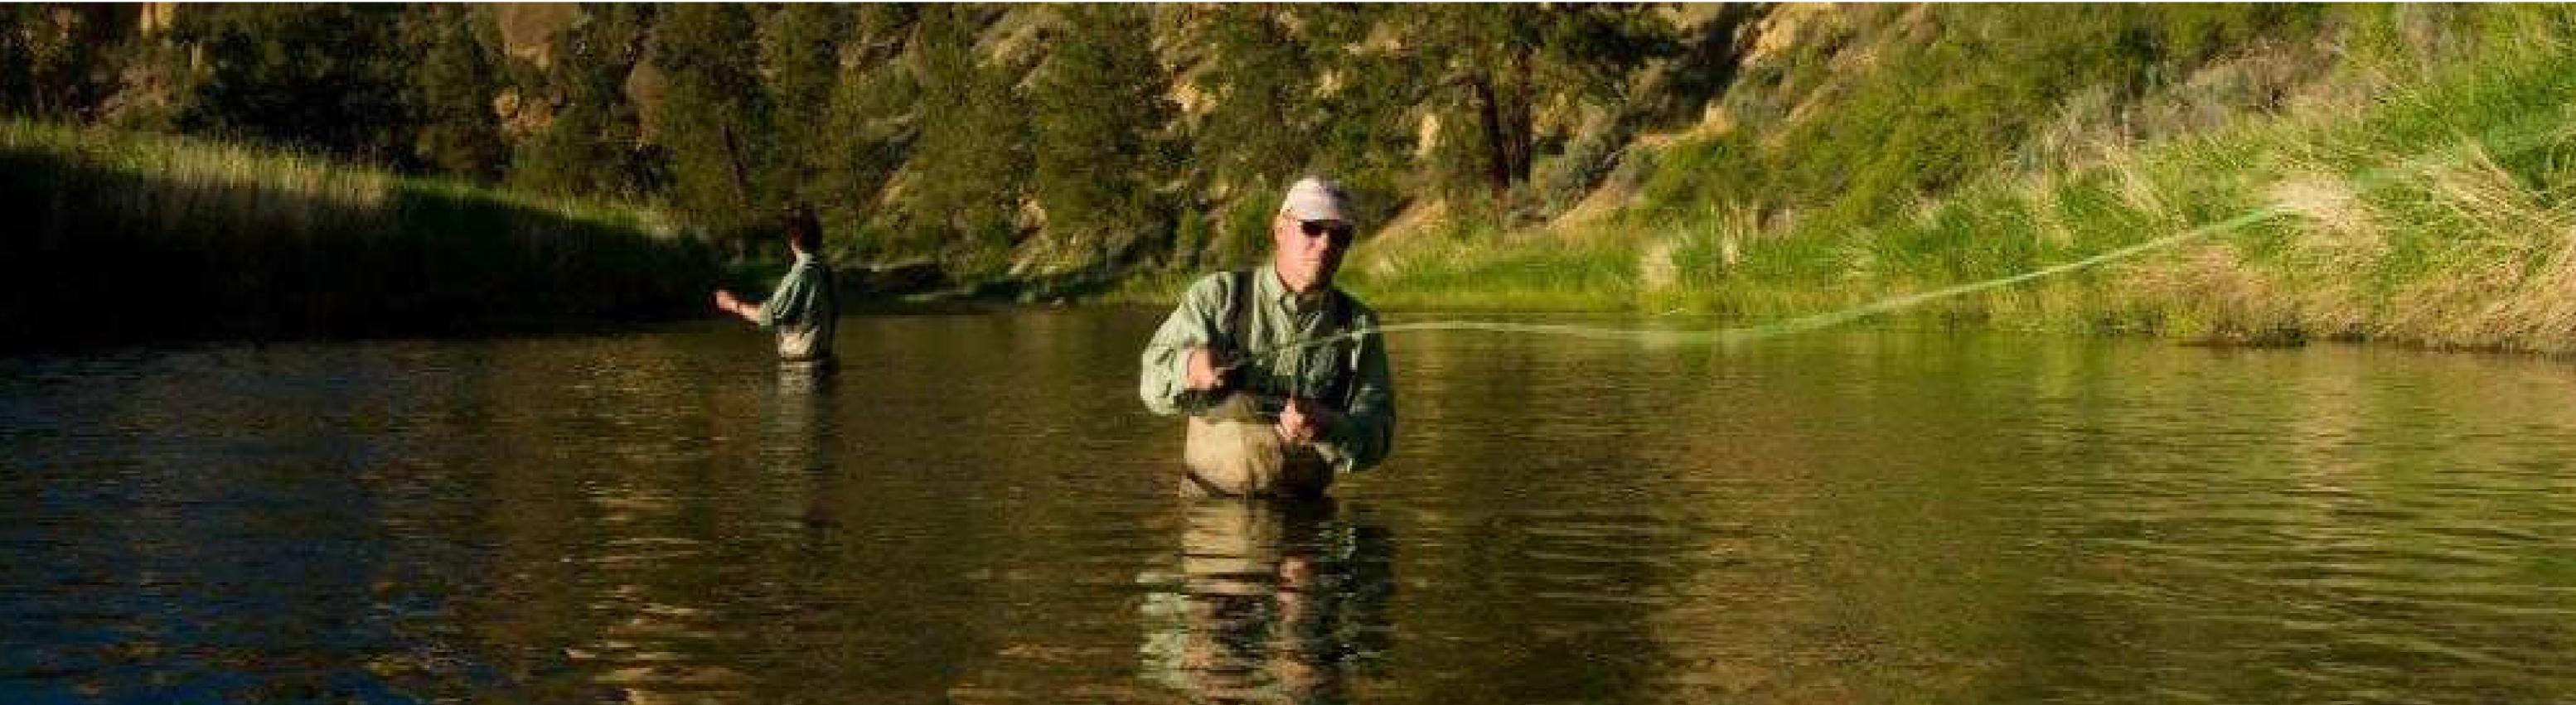

Oregon has been a state for 45 years by the time Frank and Josephine Redmond pitched the first homestead tent near the area that would later be named after them. Frank and Josephine chose to homestead near a canal right-of-way and a projected rail line, which also interested investors who saw profit in the establishment of a town in the area.

In 1943, the U.S. Air Force selected Redmond for a B17 and P38 Training Base, which eventually led to the establishment of commercial air service at Roberts Field after World War II. Currently, Redmond is a progressive full-service municipality and is considered one of the fastest growing industrial and residential communities in Oregon, hosting a population of 24,805 residents; the growth rate continues to be about 11 percent per year.

By 1910, when Redmond was incorporated, the area population had reached 216 and the downtown was lined with commercial storefronts. That year also saw the formation of a volunteer fire department, library, small hospital, town bank, laundry, lumberyard and several new businesses. Some old timers remember William Wilson, owner of the Redmond Hotel, which was built in 1928, coming out to the street with a cowbell during the 1920's to call the local businessmen to lunch. The Redmond Hotel was billed as the finest hotel east of the mountains.

Redmond's early beginnings are directly tied to the arrival of the railroad. On September 21, 1911 the golden spike was driven in place signaling the completion of the rail line. The rail link opened up markets for farmers and merchants. To mark the occasion, a huge annual Railroad Days Celebration was held and town folk from around the area came to participate in the festivities.

Redmond Attractions

Smith Rock State Park Terrebonne, 541.548.7501

Smith Rock State Park is an American state park located in central Oregon's High Desert near the communities of Redmond and Terrebonne. Its sheer cliffs of tuff and basalt are ideal for rock climbing of all difficulty levels. Smith Rock is generally considered the birthplace of modern American sport climbing, and is host to cutting-edge climbing routes. It is popular for sport climbing, traditional climbing, multi-pitch climbing, and bouldering as well as hiking.

Cline Falls State Scenic Viewpoint 7100 OR Hwy 126, 800.551.6949

Cline Falls is located on the Deschutes River approximately four miles west of Redmond, Oregon. The falls were named for Doctor C. A. Cline (1850– 1926) a Redmond dentist, who owned the land adjacent to the falls. The falls occur just north of the point where Highway 126 crosses the Deschutes River. In the 1950s, the Oregon Parks and Recreation Department acquired property above Cline Falls for the purpose of creating a day use park.

Tumalo Falls

Tumalo Falls is one of the more scenic areas in Central Oregon, and it's an easy drive west from downtown Bend. Take Highway 20 east to 3rd Avenue south. Turn right on Franklin Avenue and head west from downtown Bend to Galveston Road which turns into Skyliner Drive and leads to the gravel Tumalo Falls Road. There's an overlook (short walk) and interpretive site and a picnic area. If you want to make a hike of it – and you should – there are many trails in the area. Hike upstream along the creek and you'll run into more waterfalls.

Redmond Caves - SE Airport Way

The Redmond Caves are a group of five lava tubes in Deschutes County, Oregon, United States. The caves are located in the city of Redmond and are jointly managed by the city and the Bureau of Land Management (BLM).] They are part of the Redmond Caves Park and have been well known locally for many years. The caves are a part of the Horse Lava Tube System and the farthest northern extent of the system. The lava flow that created both the Horse system and the Redmond Caves continued on into the Redmond Dry Canyon and terminated near Crooked River Ranch. The caves have a geologic age of about 80,000 years.

Tumalo Mountain

Tumalo Mountain is a shield volcano in the Cascade Range of central Oregon, located just northeast of Mount Bachelor across the Cascade Lakes Scenic Byway. Ice Age glaciers carved a large cirque into the northeast flank of the mountain, producing a bowl which is popular with local backcountry skiers. A United States Forest Service fire lookout tower was built on the summit in the 1930s, but abandoned in the 1970s and subsequently removed. A trail to the summit ascends the southwest flank of the volcano.

The Cove Palisades State Park - Culver, 541.546.3412

The Cove Palisades State Park is a state park in eastern Jefferson County, Oregon, near Culver and Madras in the central part of the state, and is administered by the Oregon Parks and Recreation Department. It is located on the waters and surrounding lands of Lake Billy Chinook, an impoundment of the Crooked, Deschutes, and Metolius rivers

Lake Billy Chinook - Culver

Lake Billy Chinook lies in canyons carved by the three rivers into earth held in place by basaltic caprock. Construction of the Round Butte Dam was completed in 1964 across the Deschutes River. Operated by Portland General Electric (PGE), and jointly owned by PGE and the Confederated Tribes of Warm Springs, the dam and lake primarily provide electric generation for thousands of homes throughout the state. The Confederated Tribes named the lake in honor of Billy Chinook, a member of the Wasco tribe who acted as a guide in 1843 and 1844 for John C. Frémont and Kit Carson in the region of the lake. The lake extends beyond the boundaries of The Cove Palisades State Park.

Redmond Antique District

History in Redmond spans more than a century. The town's humble beginnings provide a stark contrast to life in Redmond today. It can be hard to imagine life in 1910 and how Redmond no longer resembles a frontier town. Luckily for visitors and shoppers, remnants of Redmond's past remain, and are on display in our various specialty boutiques and antique shops. An ever-increasing coalition of antique shopkeepers work at acquiring and curating unique finds that tell a story of life long ago and enrich the experience of a Redmond shopping excursion. Vintage treasures can be yours with a simple stroll down 6th Street and along Evergreen Avenue.

Steelhead Falls

Not easy to find, but worth the effort. Perched between an often frothing Deschutes below and rocky pinnacles above, the Steelhead Falls Trail follows the water downstream for about a mile and a half before coming to a dead end. Along the journey are tranquil fishing and picnic spots, majestic High Desert canyon walls and, of course, the falls.

Redmond Historic Buildings

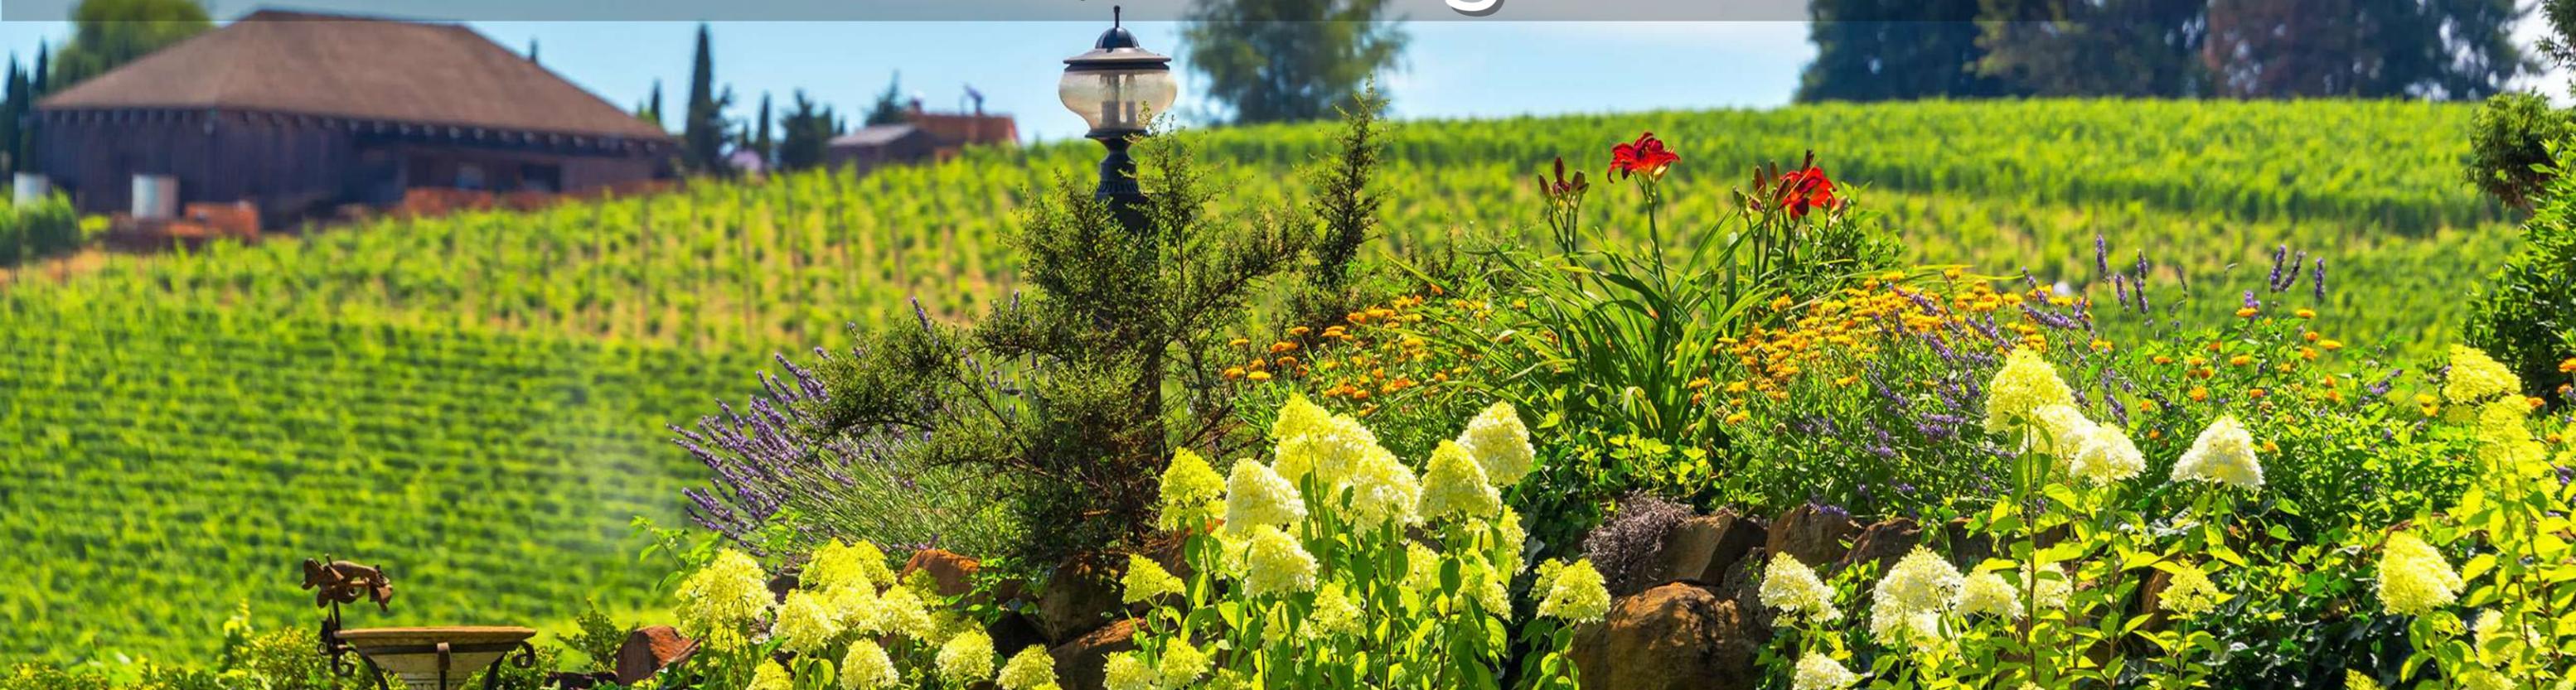

First Presbyterian Church of Redmond

Built in 1912, the First Presbyterian Church of Redmond is the oldest standing church structure in the city of Redmond, Oregon, United States. It is also the second-oldest religious building in Deschutes County. The church was built in the Gothic Revival style with Queen Anne architectural detailing. It was the home of Protestant congregations from 1912 until 1979. Today, the building is privately owned and used as a special events venue. The First Presbyterian Church of Redmond was listed on the National Register of Historic Places in 2001.

Redmond Wineries / Tasting Rooms

Maragas Winery

15523 SW Hwy. 97, Culver

Maragas Winery is located in a beautiful area of Central Oregon at 15523 SW Hwy 97, Culver, Oregon. Couched between the beautiful rock formations of Smith Rock and seven peaks of the majestic Cascade Mountains, their visitors relax on their patio and lawn and soak up their views.

Maragas Winery is the first winery in Jefferson County, Oregon and the first vineyard in Jefferson County, Oregon. They're the founding Winery and Vineyard of Central Oregon.

Crater Lake Spirits by Bendistillery 19330 Pinehurst Road, Bend

We just wanted to live in the mountains and make great spirits. That's just what we have been doing since 1996 when we released Crater Lake Vodka and Gin to the people of Oregon to enjoy. We are America's most award winning small batch distillery and have ignited the craft cocktail revolution.

In the past 20 years we have grown. Releasing new product ssuch as infused vodkas (Hazelnut Espresso, Pepper, and Sweet Ginger), Reserve products, ground to bottle Estate products, Special Projects (Hatch Green Chile Vodka), and Rye Whiskey. Also, we have expanded out of Oregon and are distributed in thirty-two states.

We moved our distillery in 2010 from Bend to a 24-acre farm property in Tumalo, Oregon to get ourselves a little more elbowroom. There we have a tasting room that serves up free tasting sand tours seven days a week, as well as, a gift shop.

Faith, Hope & Charity Vineyards 70450 NW Lower Valley Drive, Terrebonne

Faith, Hope and Charity Vineyards and Events Center was founded in the belief that growing grapes in Central Oregon would be as widely accepted as growing grapes in other Oregon regions. We are currently growing nine different hybrid grapes, La Crescent, Vignoles, Marechal Foch, La Crosse, Frontenac Gris, Traminette, St. Croix, Leon Millot and Marquette. Each one unique, we take great care in tending our vines and selecting only the best team to bring you the best wines at affordable prices. Faith, Hope and Charity Vineyards and Events has grown to become Terrebonne's premier tasting room.

Our fine wines are only available for purchase from our tasting room, but we are open every day except for major holidays like Thanksgiving, and Christmas, from Noon to 5PM.

Redmond Arts, Culture and Museum

Redmond features several permanent public art pieces and several “on loan” pieces through a program called Art Around the Clock. This is an outdoor gallery that is designed to enhance the beauty and livability of the community and features a select showing of juried pieces on a rotating basis.

For true art lovers, a walk through downtown Redmond during one of the Third Friday Strolls says it all. Paintings, sculptures and photography are on display in businesses, retail shops, restaurants, offices and on sidewalks.

Also check out downtown Bend and the Old Mill District during one of the First Fridays of the month. Paintings, sculptures and photography are on display in galleries, retail shops, offices and on sidewalks. Award-winning juried art fairs draw thousands to Bend and Sunriver every summer while the Sisters Outdoor Quilt Show in July – going on now for 41 years – remains the largest of its kind in the U.S.

Petersen Rock Garden, is a rock garden and museum on 4 acres (1.6 ha), located between the cities of Bend and Redmond in Deschutes County, Oregon. Rasmus Petersen, a Danish immigrant who settled in Central Oregon in the early 1900s, began constructing the garden in 1935 using rocks he found within an 85-mile (137 km) radius of his family home. Petersen worked on the garden until his death in 1952; the garden has remained in his family's care since then. The garden, considered a roadside attraction with novelty architecture, includes roaming peafowl and a museum with a gift shop that sells rocks
