Did You Know? La Pine, Oregon

First settled by French fur traders in the 1800s.

The City is the youngest in Oregon, incorporated in 2006.

La Pine and all of Oregon has no sales tax

Oregon is one of only two states where you can't pump your own gas (New Jersey being the other).

There are 2.5 million acres of forest, seven wilderness areas, six rivers, 157 lakes, 1600 miles of trails and the unique landscape of the Newberry National Volcanic Monument.

La Pine enjoys a lower cost of property acquisition including commercial and light industrial land, compared to most of Central Oregon.

At 4,236 feet, La Pine has the highest elevation of any community within the Central Oregon region. This advantage makes it a winter wonderland for all types of snow-related recreation. Summers are warm, welcoming equal numbers of summer recreational activities.

In La Pine, the summers are short, warm, dry, and mostly clear and the winters are very cold and partly cloudy. La Pine also gets an average of 157 days of sun.

Based on the tourism score, the best time of year to visit La Pine for warm-weather activities is from mid-July to mid-August.

La Pine is 45 minutes from Redmond Municipal Airport (RDM) which provides direct commercial air service to Portland, Seattle, Denver, Salt Lake City, Los Angeles, and San Francisco.

About La Pine

La Pine is a city in Deschutes County, Oregon, United States, incorporated on December 7, 2006.

The city is part of the Bend, Oregon Metropolitan Statistical Area. The population was 2,343 (2019) census. La Pine is in an isolated area of Central Oregon, consisting of a loose collection of homes and businesses along U.S. Highway 97 about 30 miles (48 km) southwest of Bend.

La Pine is nestled in the foothills of the Cascade Mountains at the valley of the Little Deschutes River, a tributary of the Deschutes river that provides recreation opportunities such as fishing, swimming, canoeing, tubing and other leisure activity.

Most of the residents were originally tourist to the area. They came to play (fish, camp, hunt, recreate on ATVs, snowmobiles, skis or horses) and then they moved here to stay. The mantra of 'come to play and move to stay' stands alongside the town motto of 'small town strong'.

It is characterized by people being good to each other, with a deep sense of community and a place where people go out of their way to help a neighbor and truly care about each other's well-being.
